Understanding Needs

To provide satisfactory solution, we first analyze the requirement description. If we discover some missing points, the concerned person of the field will have a discussion with client and suggest him better option. As we will like to gather all the required information about the business like business objectives and other necessary information required for development of project. After getting clear thought of project, we will move forward. We will anticipate challenges with our highly qualified and experienced team members.

- ❖ Client defines the task and gives the initial information for the project.
- ❖ Company project manager will ask additional questions to clarify the work to be done.
- ❖ Company will provide client a preliminary project cost estimate.

Architecture

At this phase we will create Infozeal eSolutions Pvt Ltd -prototype of the project, elaborate the Functional Specification (FS) and give an exact estimate of the project cost and time.
